

A NEW METHOD
Of learning with greater FACILITY the
GREEK TONGUE:

Containing RULES for the

DECLENSIONS, CONJUGATIONS, RESOLUTION of VERBS, SYNTAX,		QUANTITY, ACCENTS, DIALECTS, and POETIC LICENCE.
--	--	---

Digested in the clearest and concise Order.

WITH

Variety of useful REMARKS,

Proper to the attaining

A Complete Knowledge of that LANGUAGE,

AND

A perfect Understanding of the AUTHORS who have writ in it.

TRANSLATED from the FRENCH of the
Messieurs DE PORT ROYAL.

IN TWO VOLUMES.

VOL. I.

LONDON,

Printed for J. NOURSE, against Katherine Street
in the Strand; and G. HAWKINS at Milton's Head, between the Temple Gates, Fleetstreet.

MDCCLXVI.

---

---

I N D E X

Of TITLES and MATTERS contained in this Book.

VOLUME I.

PREFACE.

B O O K I.

Of Letters and Syllables. p. I

CHAP. I. The general Division of this Work. p. 1	Table of the Combination of Numbers. 19
CHAP. II. Of Letters in general. 3	CHAP. VII. Of Syllables in general. 20
CHAP. III. Of the Division and Mutation of Letters. 4	CHAP. VIII. Of the Properties of Syllables. 22
The pronunciation of $\eta\alpha$ . 6	Of Accents. ib.
The pronunciation of $\omega$ . ib.	Of Breathings. 24
The pronunciation of $\upsilon$ . 7	CHAP. IX. Of the change, addition, and the cutting off of Syllables. 25
CHAP. IV. Of Diphthongs. ib.	CHAP. X. Of the Contraction of Syllables. 26
CHAP. V. Of Consonants. 12	CHAP. XI. Of the change of the last Syllables on the

I N D E X,

the meeting of two Words. 30	to Reading and Writing. 52
Of the Apostrophe. ib.	CHAP. XIII. Of the Connexions or Abbreviations of Letters. 54
Of $\nu$ added to Words ending in $\epsilon$ or $\iota$ . 33	Table of Connexions of Letters or Abbreviations, to make Writing more elegant. ib.
A List of the Letters, with their most considerable changes. 34
CHAP. XII. Of some other Particularities with regard

B O O K II.

Of Words, and first of Nouns.

CHAP. I. Definition and Division of Words. 55	The Attic Manner of Declining, which Grammarians call the fourth Declension of Simples . 69
CHAP. II. Of Nouns in general. 56	Table of the second Parisyllabic Declension, with its Dialects. 71
Manner of declining the Article. 57	Contracts of the same. 72
CHAP. III. Of Declensions, and first of the first Declension of Parisyllabics. 58	CHAP. V. Of the Imparisyllabic Declension, which Grammarians call the Fifth of Simples . 73
General Rule for the Declension of Parisyllabics. 59	Of the Vocative. 74
Of Feminines in $\alpha$ and $\eta$ , which Grammarians call the second Declension of Simples . 60	CHAP. VI. Of the other Cases of the Imparisyllabic Declension. 78
Of Masculines in $\alpha\sigma$ , or in $\eta\sigma$ , whereof Grammarians make the second Declension of Simples . 62	The formation of the Genitive. ib.
Table of the first Parisyllabic Declension, with its Dialects. 66	Of the Dative Plural. 86
Contracts of the same. ib.	CHAP. VII. Of Imparisyllabic Contracts. 89
CHAP. IV. Of the second Declension of Parisyllabics.	Nouns in $\epsilon\delta\varsigma$ , which Grammarians call the third of Contracts . 91
	Nouns in $\iota$ , and $\iota$ , by Grammarians called the second of Contracts . ib.
	Nouns

I N D E X.

Nouns in $\eta\varsigma$ , and Neuters in $\epsilon\varsigma$ and $\omicron\varsigma$ , by Grammarians called the first of Contracts . 92	Of their Terminations. ib.
Of Feminines in $\omega\varsigma$ and $\omega$ , which Grammarians call the fourth of Contracts . 94	Manner of forming these Comparatives. 108
Of Neuters in $\alpha\varsigma$ pure, or in $\epsilon\alpha\varsigma$ , which Grammarians make the fifth of Contracts . 95	CHAP. XI. Of Numerals. 113
Contracts that vary from the Analogy of the preceding. 96	Observation on the Cardinal Numbers. 114
CHAP. VIII. Of Irregular Nouns, and first of those that change their Gender. 97	Of Ordinals. 115
Irregulars in Declension. 98	Of abstractive Numbers. 116
Of Defectives. 100	Of Multiplication-Numbers. ib.
Of Indeclinables augmented by $\phi$ , or $\phi\iota\nu$ . 101	CHAP. XII. Of Pronouns: and first of Primitives. 117
CHAP. IX. Of the Motion or Variation of Nouns: and first of Nouns Adjective. ib.	Table of the three Primitive Pronouns, with their Dialects. 121
Irregular Adjectives. 105	Of Derivatives, whether Possessives, or Gentiles. 122
Of the Variation of Substantives. ib.	Of Demonstratives and Relatives. 123
CHAP. X. Of Comparatives and Superlatives. 107	A Table of the Demonstratives $\epsilon\mu\iota\sigma\omicron$ and $\xi\sigma\omicron$ , and the Relative $\alpha\upsilon\tau\omicron\varsigma$ , with their Dialects. 125
	Of Compound Pronouns. 127
	Annotations on these Pronouns. 128
	A Table of $\epsilon\sigma\tau\iota\varsigma$ , with its Dialects. 129

B O O K III.

Of Verbs, and first of those in $\Omega$ .

CHAP. I. Of the Nature and Properties of a Verb. 130	Of Conjugations. ib.
Of the different kind of Verbs. 133	CHAP. II. Observations to learn easily to conjugate. 134
	Of the Characteristic. ib.
	Of

I N D E X.

Of the Termination. 137	A Table of the Dual Number. 166
Of the third Person Plural. 140	CHAP. VII. Of each Tense in particular, with its Dialects. 167
A Table of Conjugation of the Verb Active. 142	Prefent. ib.
CHAP. III. Of the Augment Syllabic, and Temporal. 144	Imperfect. 168
Of the Syllabic Augment. ib.	CHAP. VIII. Of the first Future, and first Aorist. 169
Of the Temporal Augment. 148	Formation of the first Future. ib.
Exceptions of the Rules of the Temporal Augment. 151	Exception for Verbs that have a Liquid before $\alpha$ . 170
Of Verbs that don't change $\epsilon$ into $\eta$ , but make a Diphthong of it. ib.	Of Verbs in $\omega$ pure, that cast off $\sigma$ . 172
Of Verbs that retain $\omicron$ . 153	Of Polyfyllables in $\zeta\omega$ , which also reject $\sigma$ . ib.
CHAP. IV. Of the Augment of Compound Verbs. 154	Futures in $\epsilon\upsilon\sigma\omega$ or $\alpha\upsilon\sigma\omega$ . 174
CHAP. V. Of Attic and Ionic Augments. 158	Of Futures that receive an Aspirate. 175
Of $\epsilon$ changed into $\eta$ , according to the Attic Form. ib.	Formation of the first Aorist. 176
$\epsilon$ prefixed to the Temporal Augment; $\eta$ resolved into $\epsilon\alpha$ ; $\epsilon\iota$ put for $\lambda\epsilon$ or $\mu\epsilon$ . 159	Exception for the Penultima. 177
Of the Attic Reduplication in the Perfect. 160	Exception for the Characteristic of the first Aorist. 178
The third Syllable of the Attic Perfect made short. 161	CHAP. IX. Of the second Future, and second Aorist. 179
Of the Pluperfect of these Verbs. 162	Formation of the second Future. ib.
Of the Ionic Augment. 163	Of Verbs that change the Characteristic of the Present. 182
Poetic Observations. 164	Of Verbs in $\zeta\omega$ or $\sigma\omega\omega$ . 184
CHAP. VI. Observation on the Persons of the Dual Number. ib.	Formation of the second Aorist. 185
	Of the third Person Plural in $\sigma\alpha\tau$ . 186
	A a CHAP.

I N D E X.

CHAP. X. Of the Perfect and Pluperfect. 187	CHAP. XVI. Of the Passive Futures and Aorists. 210
Characteristic and Termination of the Perfect. ib.	Formation of the first Future. ib.
Of the Penultima of the Perfect. 188	Formation of the second Future. 213
Formation of the Pluperfect. 191	Formation of the two Passive Aorists. 214
Of the Ionic and Attic Persons of this Tense. ib.	Of the third Person Aeolic. 215
CHAP. XI. Of the formation of other Moods; and first of the Subjunctive and Optative. 192	CHAP. XVII. Of the Perfect, Pluperfect, and Paulo-post Future. 217
Of the Optative. 194	Formation of the Perfect Passive. ib.
Of the first Aorist Aeolic. 195	Of the third Person Plural Ionic, of the Present, Perfect and Pluperfect Indicative, and likewise of the third Person Plural of the Optative. 223
CHAP. XII. Of the Imperative and Infinitive. 196	Formation of the Pluperfect Passive. 225
Of the third Person Attic. 197	Formation of the Paulo-post Future. 226
Of the Infinitive. ib.	CHAP. XVIII. Of the Moods, and of Participles. 227
CHAP. XIII. Of Participles. 200	The Subjunctive. ib.
CHAP. XIV. Of the Verb Passive, and its Terminations. 202	The Optative. 229
The Passive Terminations. ib.	The Imperative. 232
Of the third Person Singular and Plural. 203	The Infinitive. 234
Of the Formation of the other Persons. ib.	Participles. ib.
Of Passive Aorists. 205	CHAP. XIX. Of the Middle Verb in general. 236
A Table of the Conjugation of Verb Passive. 206	A Table of the Conjugation of the Middle Verb. 238
CHAP. XV. Of each Passive Tense in particular; and first of the Present and Imperfect. 208	CHAP. XX. Of the particular Tenses of the Middle Verb, with their Dialects. 239
Present. ib.	Imperfect. 209
	For-

I N D E X.

Formation of the two Futures Indicative. 239	fore vary in their Contraction. ib.
Of the Formation of the two Aorists. 240	That Syllables in τω are not contracted throughout. 257
Of the Formation of the Perfect Middle. 243	The Contraction of $\alpha$ changed into $\eta$ . ib.
Of the Pluperfect. 246	On the Optative. 258
CHAP. XXI. Of the other Moods, and of the Participles. 247	On the Infinitive. 259
Subjunctive. ib.	CHAP. XXIV. Of the Tenses of Circumflex Verbs, which have the same Analogy with the Barytons. 260
Optative. 248	Of the Penultima of Circumflex Futures. ib.
Imperative. ib.	Of the second Future, second Aorist, and Perfect Middle of Circumflex Verbs. 262
Infinitive. 249	Of the other Tenses and Moods. 263
Participles. ib.	CHAP. XXV. Of the Passive and Middle Circumflex. 263
—————
Of the second kind of Verbs in <math>\Omega</math>, that is, of Circumflex Verbs.
CHAP. XXII. Of the Nature of Circumflex Verbs, and of the manner of conjugating them. 250	Table of Circumflex Verbs Passive. 264
The manner of contracting these Verbs. 251	Of the Perfect Passive of Circumflex Verbs. 266
A Table of Circumflex Verbs Active. 254	Of the second Person in σαι . ib.
CHAP. XXIII. Some Observations on the Tenses capable of Contraction in Circumflex Verbs. 256	Of the Circumflex Verbs Middle. 267
That several change their Characteristic, and there-	CHAP. XXVI. Observations on the Dialects of Circumflex Verbs. 268

I N D E X.

B O O K I V.

Of the Conjugation of Verbs in μι.

CHAP. I. Of the Nature and Division of Verbs in μι. 270 Formation of the Verbs in μι. 272 Table of Conjugation of Verbs in μι. 274 General Observations on the Dialects of Verbs in μι. 276 CHAP. II. Of the Active Tenses in particular with their Dialects. 277 Of the Indicative of the Present Tense. ib. Formation of the Imperfect. 279 That Verbs in μι borrow some Tenses from Circumflex Verbs. 281 Formation of the second Aorist. 282 CHAP. III. Of the other Moods, and of the Participles. 284 Of the Subjunctive. ib. Of the Optative. 287 Formation of the Imperative. 289 Formation of the second Aorist of the Imperative. 290 Of the Penultima of the Infinitive. 291	Of the Termination of Participles. 292 CHAP. IV. Of the Passive and Middle of Verbs in μι. 293 The Indicative Present. 294 The Subjunctive. 296 The Optative. 297 The Imperative. 298 The Infinitive. ib. The Participles. ib. CHAP. V. Of the Tenses of Verbs in μι, that conform to the Analogy of the Barytonous Conjugation. 299 And first of the Active. ib. Of the first Future. ib. Of the first Aorist. ib. Of the Preter-perfect. 300 Of the Participle of the Perfect formed by Syncope. 301 Of the Passive first Future. 302 — First Aorist. 303 Of the Penultima of the Preter-perfect. ib. Of the Middle Verb. 306 Of irregulars in μι. 307 CHAP. VI. Of Derivatives from εω, with a smooth breathing: and first of εἶμι, sum, I am. 308 A Table
---	--

I N D E X.

A Table of Conjugation of the Substantive Verb εἶμι. 309 Indicative Present with its Dialects. 310 Of the Imperfect. 311 The Subjunctive. 313 — Optative. ib. — Imperative. ib. — Infinitive. 314 — Participle. ib. — Middle. ib. CHAP. VII. Of εἶμι, ἴημι, εο, vado. 315 Of the formation of εἶμι. ib. Of ἴημι, εο, vado, I go. 321	CHAP. VIII. Of Verbs derived from Primitives in εω, with a rough breathing. 322 And first of ἴημι, mitto. ib. CHAP. IX. Of ἴημαι, ἴημαι, and ἴημαι. ἴημαι, concupisco. 328 ἴημαι, sedeo, to sit. 329 CHAP. X. Of Irregulars in μι, that are not derived from a Verb in εω or ἴω. 332 Of κείμαι, jaceo. ib. Of ἴσημαι, scio. 333 Of φημι, dico. 335
---	---

V O L U M E I I.

B O O K V.

Of Defective Verbs, and of the Investigation of the Theme, or Resolution of Verbs.

CHAP. I. Of Defectives, that have only the present and the Imperfect; and first of Verbs in ω pure. p. 1 Defectives in ω impure. 4 CHAP. II. Of Defectives in μι, that seldom have but the Present and the Imperfect of the Moods. 9 1. Derivatives from a Verb in εω. ib. 2. From a Verb in εω. 12	3. From a Verb in εω. ib. 4. From a Verb in εω. ib. CHAP. III. Of the other sort of Defectives, which are unusual in the Present, and in the Imperfect. 15 Verbs scarce or unusual. 16 CHAP. IV. Of Verbs in μι, that are unusual in the Present. 23 CHAP. V. Of Defectives, that have only the third Person. 25
---	---

I N D E X.

The Resolution of Verbs, or Investigation of the Theme.

CHAP. VI. Of the Nature and Manner of the Investigation of the Theme. 26
 General Rule for the Investigation of the Theme. 28
 CHAP. VII. Of the Derivative Verbs, that borrow their Tenses from their Primitives. 31

CHAP. VIII. Of Verbs that borrow their Tenses of others synonymous, or of Verbs of the same Signification; whereof some may be regarded as their Primitives, or as their Derivatives. 46
 CHAP. IX. Of Verbs, which notwithstanding they form their Tenses from themselves, nevertheless admit of some extraordinary change proper to be observed. 60

B O O K VI.

Of Indeclinable Particles, and of the Derivation, Composition, and Affection or Propriety of Signification of Words. 69

CHAP. I. Of Adverbs. 69
 Of Interjections. 71
 CHAP. II. Of Prepositions. 77
 1. Their Division. ib.
 2. Of the Force of Prepositions in Composition. 78
 Of inseparable Prepositions. ib.
 Of the Force of several Prepositions in Composition. 80
 A List of the Prepositions, which contains a more extensive View of their Force in Composition. 81
 Of the Change of Prepositions in Compounds. 87

CHAP. III. Of Conjunctions or Connexions, σύνδεσμοι. 89
 CHAP. IV. Of derivative Nouns, and first of those that are derived from other Nouns. 90
 1. Patronymics. 91
 2. Gentiles. ib.
 3. Possessives. 92
 4. Diminutives. 93
 5. Argumentatives. 96
 6. Denominatives. 97
 CHAP. V. Of Derivatives from Verbs. 98
 1. From the Active. ib.
 2. From the Passive. 99
 3. Diverse Terminations that bear a Relation to the three foregoing. 101
 4. Three

I N D E X.

4. Three Terminations more derived from the same Person, viz. τος, τισ, and τως. 103
 5. From the Perfect Middle. 105
 CHAP. VI. Of Compound Words, and particularly of Nouns. 106
 1. Compound of two Nouns. 107
 2. Words compound with a Verb and a Noun. 109

B O O K VII.

Of the Greek Syntax.

1. Introduction to Syntax. 112
 2. Changes incident to Syllables, by Reason of the Construction. 114
 3. Of Pointing. 116
 CHAP. I. How far the Greek concord differs from the Latin. 118
 To distinguish Attraction from Government. ib.
 Of the Relative. 120
 Of the Infinitive. 122
 The manner of supplying the Gerund in Greek. 127
 Difficulties relating to the Government of the Infinitive. 128
 Of Participles. 130
 Of a Neuter Plural joined to a Singular. 132
 CHAP. II. How far the Greek Tongue differs from the Latin with respect to the Government; and first of the Prepositions; and of local Interrogations. 134
 The Government of Prepositions. ib.
 A List of Greek Prepositions with their particular Grace and various Governments. 135
 Of the Questions of Place. 158
 CHAP. III. Of the Government of the Genitive. 159
 Nouns that govern, or are governed in the Genitive. ib.
 Annotation on the Superlative. 161
 Remarkable Expressions with the Comparative. ib.
 The Government of Adverbs. 163
 The Reason of the Government of these Adverbs. 165
 Several Nouns that are put in the Genitive. ib.
 Nouns of Time, that are put in the Accusative, or in the Ablative. 166
 The Matter and the Price in the Ablative. 167
 Several Verbs that govern a Genitive. 168
 CHAP. IV. The Government of the DATIVE. 174
 The Government of the ACCUSATIVE. 177
 CHAP.

I N D E X.

CHAP. V. Of the Passive Verb. 181 That in the Greek there are three absolute Cases. 183 The Manner of resolving the absolute Construction. 186 Whether the Nominative can be an absolute Case. 187 Whether the absolute Case ought always to be referred to a different Person. 188 CHAP. VI. Observations on different Governments. 189 1. Different Governments joined together. ib. 2. Variety in the Sense by Reason of the Difference of Government. 190	3. Difference of Government in Verbs compounded with Prepositions. ib. 4. The Expressions changed by Virtue of the Government. 191 CHAP. VII. Observations on figurative Construction. ib. 1. Ellipsis. 192 First List, of several Nouns understood in Greek Authors. 193 Second List, of Verbs, or Participles understood. 198 Third List, of Prepositions understood. 199 Zeugma. 201 2. Pleonasm. 202 3. Syllepsis. 203 Relative Syllepsis. 204 4. Hyperbaton. 205
--	--

B O O K VIII.

Containing particular Remarks on all the Parts of Speech.

CHAP. I. Remarks on the Nouns, and first of the Irregularities of Construction, vulgarly fancied by the Grammarians. 206 CHAP. II. Whether the Greeks have an Ablative Case. 209 CHAP. III. Construction of Numerals. 214 Combination of Numbers. 216 Divers Particles made use of in the expressing of Numbers. ib.	CHAP. IV. Remarks on the Article. 218 CHAP. V. That the Article is often taken for the Demonstrative and the Relative, or vice versa: as also for τῆς: and the Reason of these Changes. 221 CHAP. VI. Remarks on the Pronouns, and first of Reciprocals and Relatives. 223 Of the Possessives. 225 CHAP. VII. Of some Nouns derived from Pronouns, And
---	---

I N D E X.

And first of the Relatives of Quality, οἷος and ποῖος. 225 Of ὅσος and τοσούτος. 228 CHAP. VIII. Remarks on the Verbs, 1. That we must consider the Nature of the Verbs. 229 2. Of πάσχω and ὀφείλω. 231 CHAP. IX. That we must consider the Nature of the Tenses. 232 1. Of the first Aorist. 233 2. Of the Perfect and Aorists. 234 3. Of the Middle Aorists. 235 CHAP. X. That we are to consider the Nature and Disposition of the Moods. ib. 1. Of the Indicative, the Subjunctive, and the Optative. ib. 2. Of the Imperative and Infinitive. 237 3. That the Infinitive is not put for the Subjunctive. 238 4. The Infinitives and Participles of all Tenses. 239 5. Of Verbals in ἐόν. ib. Of two more remarkable Expressions, and more difficult to resolve. 240 CHAP. XI. Remarks on the Indeclinable Particles, And first, of ὅτι. 241 1. That ὅτι is always a Relative. ib. 2. Ὅτι μὴ, nisi. 245 3. Ὅτι, quam. 247	CHAP. XII. Of the Prepositions. 247 Variation of the same Phrase caused by Prepositions. 248 The Signification of a Word changed by a Preposition. 249 A remarkable Signification of ἀπὸ. 251 Periphrasis of ἀμφὶ and περιῖ. ib. Difficulty concerning those Periphrases. 252 CHAP. XIII. Of the Particle ὡς, ut. 254 CHAP. XIV. Of the Negative Particles. 256 Of μήποτε. 258 CHAP. XV. Of the Particle ἄν. ib. 2. Ἄν, with the Infinitive and the Participles. 260 3. Ἄν, in Interrogations. 261 4. Ἄν, Expletive or redundant, and Elliptic or understood. ib. 5. Remarkable Force of the Particle ἄν in abridging. 262 CHAP. XVI. Of some other Particles that are necessary for Connexion or Transition in Discourse. 1. Of those that connect Things. 262 2. Of those that import Distinction. 263 3. Of those that are made use of, in the Continuance of the Discourse. 265 4. Of those that are made use of to express a Doubt. 266 5. Or
--	---

I N D E X.

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 5. Or those that are used in Inferences, or Conclusions. 267 | 6. Of Adversative Particles. ib. |
|--|---|

B O O K IX.

Of Quantity, Accents, Dialects, and Poetic Licenses.

Of the Quantity of Syllables.      269

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| CH A P. I. Some general Rules of Quantity. 269 1. Observations on the Mutes and Liquids. ib. 2. Of long or short Syllables in general. 270 CH A P. II. Of the particular Rules of Quantity. 271 And first of the three common Vowels before the Penultima. ib. General Rule of the three Vowels, a, i, u. 272 CH A P. III. Of the three common Vowels of the Penultima. 277 CH A P. IV. Of the three common Vowels at the End of Words. 283 CH A P. V. Two Observations concerning the Quantity of Nouns and Verbs. 286 CH A P. VI. On the Nature | and Division of ACCENTS, of their general Analogy, and that they are not to be confounded with Quantity. 288 CH A P. VII. The Rules of Accents, and first of Nouns. 294 CH A P. VIII. Of the Accents of Verbs. 309 CH A P. IX. Of Enclitics. 317 Of Breathings. 327 CH A P. X. Divers Observations regarding the Accents and the Distinction of Words. 329 CH A P. XI. Of the four Dialects in general. 332 CH A P. XII. Of the Poetic Licenses. 341 CH A P. XIII. Observations on the Liberty of the Greek Versification. 347 |
|--|--|

End of the Index.